PETROLEUM

Simla, the 27th May 1911.

No. 3301-6.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 4, sub-section (1), of the Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that the following alterations and additions be made to the first schedule to the said Act :—

I. After direction 2 in Part II, the following shall be added, namely :—

"3. Samples of certain mixtures.—Samples of liquid, and viscous and sedimentary, petroleum mixtures shall be prepared for testing in the manner prescribed by the two foregoing directions."

II. For direction 5 in Part III as amended by Home Department notification No. 928 (J), dated the 28th June 1900, the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"Directions for testing petroleum mixtures".

6. Liquid mixtures.—Where the petroleum mixture is wholly liquid, flows quite freely, and does not contain any sediment or thickening ingredient, such mixture is tested in the same manner as ordinary petroleum.

7. Viscous and sedimentary mixtures.—Where the petroleum mixture contains an undissolved sediment, as in the case of some metal polishes, which can be separated by filtration or by settlement and decantation, the sediment may be so separated and the decanted liquid may be tested in the same manner as ordinary petroleum.

In carrying out such separation, care must be taken to minimise the evaporation of the petroleum. The separation of the sediment must not be effected by distillation.

Where the petroleum mixture is such that sediment cannot be separated by the aforementioned means, or where it is of a viscous nature as in the case of India-rubber solution, quick drying paints, etc., such mixture shall be tested in a modified apparatus, which differs from that prescribed in Part I only in the addition of a stirrer to equalize the temperature throughout the sample under test.

In carrying out the test of a viscous petroleum mixture, the stirrer shall be constantly revolved at a slow speed, except when applying the test flame, with the fingers, the direction of revolution being that of the hand of a clock.

With the exception of the use of the stirrer, the manner of carrying out the test shall be the same as in the case of ordinary petroleum.

The stirrer may be removed by grasping the spindle just above the blades with the finger and thumb, and unscrewing the upper sheath. The opening in the lid, through which the stirrer passes, may then be closed by a plug provided for the purpose.

When this has been done, the apparatus shall be deemed to comply with the specification set forth in this schedule and may be used for testing ordinary petroleum.

A model of the aforementioned apparatus will be deposited in the office of the Chemical Examiner to Government, Calcutta, and the provisions of section 20 of the Petroleum Act, 1899, in regard to verification and stamping shall apply also to such apparatus as though it were the apparatus prescribed by the said Act.

For the purpose of carrying out such verification the stirrer shall be removed and the opening plugged as hereinbefore directed. The apparatus shall then be tested with ordinary petroleum. The stirrer shall be verified by comparison of measurements.

III For the heading to Part IV the following shall be substituted namely :—

"Directions for determining the flashing point of petroleum and petroleum mixtures which are not fluid at ordinary temperatures but liquefy when heated in a water bath, or which are liquid at ordinary temperatures but solidify on being cooled to 50° F."

Ootacamund, June 20, 1911.

No. 72.—The following resolution of the Government of India is republished :—

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

ECCLESIASTICAL.

Nos. 218/238

Simla, the 2nd June 1911.

Resolution—By the Government of India, Department of Education.

The Government of India have had for some time under their consideration the question of the arrangements to be made for Presbyterian and Wesleyan services for troops in those military stations in India in which the only, or the principal, Government church has been consecrated for the celebration of divine service according to the rites and ceremonies of the Church of England. The Metropolitan and other Bishops of the Church of England in India have from time to time permitted churches so consecrated to be used for Presbyterian and Wesleyan services on certain conditions, but the arrangements made have not proved entirely satisfactory to all concerned. The authorities of the Church of England and the Church of Scotland have laid before the Secretary of State proposals for a final settlement of the difficulties which have arisen in the past and the Government of India are now in a position to announce the arrangements which are explained below.

2. All military stations to which British troops are liable to be sent will in future be divided, for the purpose of questions affecting church accommodation for troops, into three classes, namely :—

Class A stations.—Stations having a garrison of two or more full battalions, or of 2,000 men or more.

Class B stations.—Stations not included in Class A, where Scottish regiments are liable to be posted, which have a garrison of 750 men or more.

Class C stations.—All other stations.

3. The classification of stations will in all cases depend on the strength of the permanent garrisons allotted to them, and will be altered from time to time in accordance with changes in the distribution of British troops. Stations from which it is proposed to withdraw, or in which it is proposed to reduce the British garrison will, for the present, be dealt with as though the withdrawal or reduction had already been effected. Classified lists of stations will be supplied to the authorities of the Church of England, and of the Church of Scotland, and to the Superintending Wesleyan Chaplain at an early date.

4. In Class A stations in which there is not already available an unconsecrated* church sufficient for the services of all denominations alike, the Government of India consider that the Church of Scotland should be regarded as entitled to separate churches large enough for the parade service of a full battalion, and the Wesleyans to grants-in-aid of separate churches large enough for the average number of Wesleyan troops ordinarily posted to the stations. In stations in this class they will arrange to construct, as early as possible, separate Presbyterian churches, where these do not already exist, and to enlarge those which are not in their opinion of sufficient size. They will consider applications for grants, in accordance with rule 10 in Part V of the rules published with the Home Department Notification, No. 465, dated the 6th November 1909, in aid of Wesleyan churches in Class A stations.

5. In class B stations in which there is not already available an unconsecrated church sufficient for the services of all denominations alike, and in which there is not already a Presbyterian church, the Government of India, though they cannot undertake to provide for the Church of Scotland churches large enough for the parade service of a full battalion, will be prepared to provide separate churches large enough for all services other than parade service. These churches, although the Church of Scotland will have the primary claim to them, will also be available, in stations in which there are no separate Wesleyan churches, for Wesleyan services, when arrangements for these can be made. When their use is desired the Officer Commanding the station will consult with the Presidency Senior Chaplain concerned.

6. In class C stations where there are no churches available for Presbyterian and Wesleyan services, arrangements will be made to provide church rooms, set apart entirely for religious purposes, and suitably furnished for the celebration of the Sacraments and other public ordinances of religion, whenever arrangements can be made to conduct Presbyterian or Wesleyan services.

7. When churches in class B stations and church rooms in class C stations have to be used by both Presbyterians and Wesleyans, the Brigade Commanders will fix, after consultation with the Presbyterian and Wesleyan chaplains, the times at which they are to be at the disposal of the two denominations.

8. No applications to Bishops of the Church of England for the use of consecrated churches for Presbyterian or Wesleyan services for troops are to be made in future save in accordance with the following rules:—

(1) All applications are to be made by Brigade Commanders on receipt of a request from the Presidency Senior Chaplain of the Church of Scotland or from the Superintending Wesleyan Chaplain as the case may be.

(2) No applications are to be made in the case of churches in Class A stations after three years from the date of this resolution.

(3) No applications are to be made in regard to stations in which Government have provided unconsecrated churches available to and sufficient for the services of all denominations.

(4) In the case of Class A stations applications may be made, within the next three years, for the use of consecrated churches for all Presbyterian services when there is no Presbyterian church and for Wesleyan services when there is no Wesleyan church. Applications may also be made, within the same period, for the use of consecrated churches for parade service only, in stations at which the Presbyterian churches are not large enough for the parade service of a full battalion, provided Scottish regiments are at the time quartered in those stations.

(5) In the case of Class B and Class C stations applications may be made for the use of consecrated churches for parade services of Presbyterians and Wesleyans when either (i) there is no Presbyterian or Wesleyan church large enough for the parade service of Presbyterian or Wesleyan troops respectively in the station, or (ii) when, though there is such a church, the Brigade Commander informs the Bishop that it is situated at such a distance from barracks that its use for parade service would cause serious inconvenience or serious discomfort to the troops.

(6) In Class B and Class C stations applications may be made for the use of consecrated churches for services other than parade service in stations in which there are no Presbyterian or Wesleyan churches, and in which the separate accommodation indicated above has not yet been provided.

(7) In Class B and Class C stations applications may also be made in special circumstances for the celebration of the Communion and Baptismal services of the Church of Scotland, or of the Wesleyans, in a consecrated church as part of the parade service, and for the use of consecrated churches for marriages when special circumstances render it desirable, provided that the marriages are such as would be permissible by English law.

9. The Metropolitan and the Bishops of the Church of England in India have consented to grant applications for the use of consecrated churches for Presbyterian and Wesleyan services which are made to them in accordance with the above rules.

10. The care and disposal of the church furniture, ornaments, and instruments of divine worship, and the expenditure and control of the church establishment, will remain exclusively in the hands of the chaplain or clergyman of the Church of England performing the duties of chaplain.

* an "unconsecrated" church shall be understood to mean a church not consecrated according to the rites of the Church of England.

When the use of a consecrated church is permitted, the Church of England chaplain, or the clergyman of the Church of England performing the duties of chaplain, will, under the Bishop's instructions and in communication with the Officer Commanding the station, who will ascertain the wishes of the Officer Commanding the regiment, and of the Church of Scotland and Wesleyan chaplains concerned, fix the hours at which the church is to be made available to the Presbyterian or Wesleyan congregation for parade and other services.
